Luxury Accommodation in the heart of Manhattan's stunning upper east side

A landmark luxury hotel in the heart of Manhattan, The Lowell rises 17-floors above an iconic residential neighborhood, a stone's throw from the celebrated fashion houses of Madison Avenue and footsteps from Fifth Avenue and the vast oasis of Central Park.

Established in 1927, The Lowell reflects the timeless elegance and soul of the Upper East Side. The warmth of a familiar smile, attention to detail and discreet service welcome discerning guests as they move through chic classical spaces. Wood-burning fireplaces—a rare find in New York—and landscaped terraces with sweeping city views are enjoyed in sun-filled rooms and suites fashioned in the hotel's distinctive style with the refined comforts of a private apartment.

Legendary restaurateur Charles Masson oversees the property's newest Upper East Side restaurants where guests come to escape the bustle of the city over seasonal cuisine at Majorelle and linger over the perfect martini at Jacques Bar. The Club Room at The Lowell offers a sophisticated setting to unwind, while the reimagined Pembroke Room upholds tradition with its beloved breakfast and afternoon tea.

MAJORELLE

Celebrated restaurateur Charles Masson and his creative culinary team, under the leadership of Chef Richard Brower, crafted a menu of French Classics with Mediterranean influences from the Riviera to Morocco. Seasonal ingredients and wine pairings change in tempo with the flowering botanical oasis in the Garden, which offers outdoor seating year round.

Guests enjoy light lunches and relaxing dinners in an airy dining room filled with sunlight, laughter and clinking glasses of champagne. As comfortable as it is luxurious, Majorelle is one of the best restaurants near Central Park and is a welcoming maison where guests are always made to feel at home.

JACQUES BAR

---

At Jacques Bar, perfectly executed cocktails are mixed by skilled bartenders who know exactly what guests will order as soon as they arrive. Friends gather at their usual table to sip Manhattan's best martinis and add to the bar's lively atmosphere, while a delicious menu of light fare and signature dishes made from seasonal ingredients is apropos for every occasion. The service is as flawless as the design with velvet banquettes, light oak paneling, mosaic marble floors and antique mirrored ceilings that reflect unforgettable New York moments. All adding to make Jacques bar one of the best hotel bars NYC.

THE CLUB ROOM

The Club Room is a sumptuous hideaway for hotel guests with quiet corners to unwind. Parquet floors, elaborate crown molding and a library of curated vintage books create a warm and welcoming Upper East Side lounge with gracious hospitality. Deep sofas and wingback club chairs offer a comfortable place to enjoy a drink or meal overlooking the garden, socialize with friends or sip a nightcap in front of the fireplace. Whether alone or with company, guests relaxing in the Club Room never feel the rush to be anywhere else.

PEMBROKE ROOM

---

The lobby's new grand marble staircase directly accesses one of New York's best kept secrets. Nestled on the second floor, large French doors open onto a European-inspired salon where high tea is a perfected art. The sparkle of crystal, gleaming silver and polished service offer a discreet and refined setting for breakfast, weekend brunch, the hotel's famous afternoon tea or private evening events. The Pembroke Room is the perfect Central Park dining choice.

---

AFTERNOON TEA

---

Steeped in elegance and rooted in ritual, high tea in the Pembroke Room preserves a time-honored tradition for modern-day Manhattan. Reminiscent of a European tea salon, the Pembroke Room offers consummate service and an exquisite setting perfect for afternoon tea, private affairs, and wedding or baby showers.

Three set menus highlight an assortment of Dammann Frères loose leaf teas and herbal infusions, along with sweet and savory treats that are as magnificent as the crystal chandeliers sparkling above. From champagne and caviar, to English tea sandwiches, warm homemade scones with Devonshire cream, and frosted petit fours, high tea at The Lowell elevates any afternoon.

PRIVATE EVENTS

---

From an elegant garden soiree to a high-level business meeting in a specialty suite, The Lowell offers a range of dynamic spaces that serve as a distinguished backdrop to an upscale private event. Refined service and gourmet catering flawlessly complement each affair.

Five apartment-style suites, featuring distinct decor, large dining tables and private terraces with city views, provide an ideal setting for a board meeting or special celebration. The Lowell's storied Pembroke Room, rich in Renaissance splendor, sets a magnificent stage for a private brunch, afternoon tea, cocktail function, or private dinner party. For a sophisticated gathering, the hotel's new Club Room welcomes guests with comfortable luxury. Deep sofas, wingback club chairs, and a seamless extension to Majorelle's pristine Garden, offers one of the most spectacular spaces in all of New York to host an event.
