

There is a place in Miami Beach where time stands still. A tropical retreat on the ocean's edge where effervescent culture melts into infinite sky and sea.

Here, we've sown fertile ground where nature, art, culture and wisdom coexist in timeless harmony. Your senses are stirred, your palate teased and your soul nourished. Kindred spirits from near and far are drawn together by the power of shared purpose and a deep longing to master the art of living.

There is freedom to float between rest and play. You can sink into silence to hear your heartbeat or spin in the vibrant dance of life unfolding beyond.

We all need a place to pause, a place to dream and a place to spread our wings. At Blue Heron Ocean Society you will find them all.